

END OF A SCANDAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Drayton May be Reunited.

NEW YORK, June 13.—It seems to be clear that Mr. and Mrs. J. Coleman Drayton are about to become reconciled to each other. Mrs. Drayton and her husband are the only members of direct connections of the Astor family, now in town. Mrs. Drayton is at present domiciled in the home of her sister, Mrs. Orme Wilson, 414 Fifth avenue. Mr. Drayton and his children are passing the time between Tuxedo and this city, and intend passing the summer at Bar Harbor.

Some take it as a significant sign of Mrs. Astor's state of mind in regard to her feelings for her daughter, Mrs. Drayton, that she left town for her Newport villa the same day that her daughter arrived from abroad.

It is also said that Mrs. Astor has for several months had no communication with Mrs. Drayton. Mr. and Mrs. Orme Wilson also left for their Lenox place Saturday, and this apparent avoidance on their part of Mrs. Drayton has set the tongues of society gossips wagging.

On the other hand, gossip has it that both Mrs. Orme Wilson and Mrs. J. Roosevelt, sisters of Mrs. Drayton, intend doing everything in their power to bring about a reconciliation between the estranged husband and wife.

It is said in some quarters that advances from both sides toward this end have been met half way and that husband and wife are soon to be united. Indeed, it is said by those who are intimately connected with Mrs. Drayton in New York, that her paramount object in visiting this country was to meet her husband, and they claim that they will soon be again a happy pair. It was said to-day that she would start for Newport in a few days, and that this would be the first step looking to her reappearance in society, her mother being her sponsor.

CANNOT RETURN.

A Decision Affecting Registered Chinese Laborers.

BOSTON, June 13.—A Chinese laundryman of Wakefield, Mass., who registered under the Geary Act, wishes to go to China and come back after a time. His lawyer wrote to Secretary Carlisle asking whether he would be allowed to come back, and received this answer from Acting Secretary Hamilton: "I have to inform you that a Chinese laborer registered under the act of May 5, 1892, who departs from the United States will not be permitted to return thereto, as Chinese laborers are prohibited from landing in the United States."

REPORT ON THE MONTEREY.

It is Highly Satisfactory to the Authorities at Washington.

VALLEJO, June 13.—Captain H. L. Howison, Commandant of the Mare Island Navy Yard, who was President of the Naval Board of Inspectors that conducted the final trial trip of the coast defense monitor Monterey, has received word from Washington that the report rendered by the board is highly satisfactory in every particular to the Department, and that the official announcement of the final acceptance by the Navy Department of the Monterey is but a matter of a few days.

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE.

A Story That Deportation to Siberia is Ended.

VIENNA, June 13.—Newspapers here report that the Czar intends to promulgate a ukase January 1st, abolishing deportation to Siberia and extending the same judicial procedure which obtains in Russia proper to Siberia, with the exception of the trial by jury. The supposed reforms, however, are too progressive and far-reaching in character to meet with general credence.

HUNTING FOR A CASKET.

A Queer Quest in a Tiger-Haunted Jungle of India.

We were encamped about ninety miles south of Allahabad and were about to start out one morning to beat up a tiger which had been marked down when a couple of natives came into camp with a message from the head man of a village called Pootpur, lying about six miles to the east. There were four of us in the hunting party, and the messenger stated that the head man had some very important news to communicate. He would have come to us, but he was an old man and a cripple. Thinking it likely that his village was troubled with a man-eater and that he wanted the services of our rifles we rode over to see him. We found him to be a man over seventy years old, crippled by the loss of a leg, and it was a queer story he had to tell. Up to the breaking out of the Sepoy rebellion he was a prince and a ruler in one of the western provinces. He had cast his lot with the rebels, and after the British regained control had narrowly escaped the death meted out to so many other scions of royalty. Deposed, divested and disgraced, he had wandered about for several years and finally settled down in a jungle village of three hundred inhabitants. He had saved from the wreck of his fortunes a number of rare and beautiful jewels. They were heirlooms of his greatness, and he had refused to part with them. His collection comprised rubies, pearls, opals, diamonds, sapphires and other precious gems, valued at £20,000 in English money. No one in the village knew of his wealth. His gems were kept in a silver casket, and the casket was buried in the earthen floor of his hut.

Two days previous to our arrival the old man had unearthed his treasure to feast his eyes on the gems. While he used all due precautions to prevent discovery his action was observed by a

Are we to be, or not to be, a part of the Great Republic, seems to be the burning question of the day, and one we had rather leave to wiser heads than ours to solve; and while great statesmen are wrestling with this momentous question, we want to have a little "how-wow" with you on some other subjects, that concern you as well as ourselves.

Has it not occurred to you that you've been wearing that old hat long enough! In these progressive times if you intend to be "in it," you've got to keep pace with fashion. No matter how otherwise well dressed you may be, unless your hat is the correct thing you bear a shabby appearance.

We have already laid in a stock of the Latest Hats of the coming Spring and Summer styles, in hard felts, soft felts and straws, and including a line of the celebrated "Fedora" Hats, at present all the rage in the United States. There is therefore, no necessity for you to hang on any longer to that old Tile that bears such a strong resemblance to the hat "your father wore."

Believing that business will be better in the near future, we have not hesitated to keep our stock full in all lines. Take collars for instance: We have almost everything you could wish for. If you wear a standing collar, just come in and take a look at our "Narenta" or "Ardonia;" or if you prefer a turn down collar, try the "Winnipeg" or "Goswell;" we have have lots of others, and can't fail to suit you. Cuffs in abundance, links or otherwise.

Neckwear in profusion, scarfs, windsors, 4-in-hands, and a special lot of "Boys' Bows;" suspenders in great variety, leather and woven ends, good strong, serviceable goods.

We might go on indefinitely, but space is valuable, and to enumerate everything we carry would fill a pretty fair sized book. If there is anything you want in the men's line, just drop in and see us, and if we can't suit you, we don't believe any one can.

If you should want a pair of nice shoes, let us try a hand at fitting you. Did it ever occur to you

How much a man is like his shoes; For instance, both a soul may lose. Both have been tanned; Both are made tight by Cobblers; Both get left and right; Both need a mate to be complete; And both are made to go on feet.

They both need healing; oft are sold, And both in time will turn to mould. With shoes the last is first; with men The first shall be the last; and when The shoes wear out, they're mended new; When men wear out, they're men dead too.

They both are trod upon, and both Will tread on others nothing loth. Both have their ties, and both incline When polished, in the world to shine; And both peg out. Now would you choose To be a man, or be his shoes.
